

Assessing Media Bias in Cross-Linguistic and Cross-National Populations

- Study of subjectivity language on news articles from 126 countries, written in different 4 languages
- Languages have inner subjectivities which should be taken into account when analyzing text in a multilingual context
- Differences in subjectivity may indicate bias in text
- By controlling the language bias, we isolate the bias of the interlocutor.
- We analysed subjectivity in two relevant topics: Syrian War and the Venezuela Crisis